We would call attention to the following facts in connection with this Machine, which render it superior to any other in use:

It forms a flat elastic seam which will not rip or wear,
It is entirely noiseless.
A patented device prevents its being turned backward,
The needle cannot be set wrong;
Can be used successfully without other instructions than accompany the Machine;
It received the Gold Medal of the American Institute in 1863. For particulars enquire of

COPPERHEADS ON THE RAMPAGE. — A SCENE IN NEW JERSEY. — On the 4th of July last, the Rev. Mr. Landon delivered a patriotic speech at Belvidere (N. J.) and when he concluded the meeting was disturbed by a number of Copperhead politicians led by Judge Jacob Sharp, recently Clerk of the House of Assembly. The Belvidere Intelligencer thus describes the scene:

Judge Sharp forced himself upon the stand, and in a maddened rage announced that there had been "an abolition prayer" and "nigger political speech" made, and that we had "no Fourth of July!" and invited the Democracy to assemble at the stand at two o'clock to listen to the Democratic speeches and prayers in opposition to the political speech and prayers that had just been delivered.

Colonel Scranton, the Marshal of the day, succeeded in quelling the disturbance and in getting our returned soldiers formed in procession and conducted to the tables where the ladies were in waiting to serve them with dinner provided by the Committee of Arrangements. All felt that we should now have peace, and that the soldiers would now be permitted to partake of their dinner in quietness. But again, to the surprise of all, Judge Sharp forced himself into the midst of the soldiers, and mounting one of the tables, again attempted to break up the dinner, backed up by his Copperhead friends, refusing to allow the soldiers who have fought the battles of their country to quietly enjoy the repast furnished by the citizens of the county. At this stage of the row Col. Scranton again appealed to these rowdies to desist in order to allow General McAllister to introduce a toast complimenting the ladies for their kindness to the soldiers in the preparation of the bountiful repast furnished. No sooner was it read than I. N. Norton mounted a table and began a political harangue, denouncing the dinner as having been got up by the Republican State Central Committee at Trenton, stigmatizing the movement with vile language which could not be distinctly heard in the midst of the row and blows that began to be freely given, and the smashing of crockery that followed, Judge Sharp's Southern son-in-law running down upon one of the tables brandishing a stick, smashing the crockery and destroying the eatables provided for the soldiers. Many of the soldiers expressed great indignation at these riotous proceedings, and it was with a great effort that the Union men could restrain them from laying violent hands on those leading rowdies, Judge Sharp calling out, "Come on Democrats! Come on true Democracy!"

After the attempt at riot had been quelled, a soldier by the name of Axford was called upon the stand to make a Democratic speech, but he dealt some heavy blows at the peace party in the North, styling them traitors. Colonel P. D. Kennedy was then brought forward and commenced another political harangue, but it was such a milk and water affair that it brought forth only three cheers from three drunken men. After Kennedy had got through, the stage manager for the Democracy came forward and announced that the Democratic Central Committee now adjourned the meeting. We had supposed that now the Southern traitors are put down, their Northern sympathizers would hide their heads in shame and stop insulting the war-worn veterans who have nobly fought the battles of their country, but it seems we were mistaken.

AN ENTERPRISING FEMALE. — The Erie Dispatch says:

We were somewhat taken aback a few days ago, "on the creek," by meeting a charming female, who talked as pertly upon oil and oil wells as any person of the opposite sex we ever met. She had sites for sale for any desirable promise — was quite indifferent about trading — asked a good royalty, ranging from three sixteenths to one quarter — had interests which she considers worth from $50,000 to $100,000 — did not want to marry — expected to open an office in New York soon — had no agents employed — transacted all her own business, and was ready to negotiate for anything in the way of property from a steam engine to a state house.

A TOUGH TURTLE STORY. — The Springfield (Mass.) Republican is responsible for the story of a new rat trap accidently discovered in that city. A gentleman captured a large turtle, cut off its head and left it out doors, while he carried the rest of the animal into the kitchen to be made into soup. There was presently an animal squealing in the yard, and on investigation into the cause of it disclosed the interesting fact that a rat had come out to eat up the head, had been seized and actually killed, and the decapitated head had hung on so tightly that it was necessary to use an ax to divide them. The Republican adds: Nobody need malign dead-heads after this.

NEW OVERLAND STAGE ROAD. — Ben Holladay has a party in the field exploring and making a new road west from Denver to Salt Lake. The new road lies south of that now in use and shortens the distance from fifty one hundred miles. At the same time it lies in a region better timbered and watered and less exposed to Indian depredations. Upon this route the Western Union Telegraph Company propose to build a new and improved line of overland telegraph, which they intend to maintain in addition to the old line north of the Platte river.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE STATE

FRIDAY MORNING SEPT 8 1865

The Growth of Oregon

By viewing the improvements that are making in our principal towns an idea may be had of the rate of Oregon's growth. A casual or careless observer might be led, in taking a hurried look at our affairs, to suppose that the State was making little progress in the way of future wealth and greatness. Now while it is true Oregon is not growing at the wonderful rate with which some of the States have been and are still advancing, it is nevertheless a fact that the progress she is making gives every reason for encouragement and abundant promise for the future. The growth of our chief towns may fairly be taken as an index of the growth of the State. The steady and even the rapid manner in which they increase in size, population and wealth, ought to convince every one that, spite of all our drawbacks, and these are neither few nor insignificant, the State at large is enjoying a very fair degree of prosperity. True every little town that once put in its particular claims for public notice is not now rising into prominence as the projector confidently hoped. On the contrary many of these almost insignificant villages are falling to decay. We could scarcely, in reason, expect them all to grow, as their very sanguine proprietors once predicted. But at those points to which the trade, business and resources of the country naturally converge, towns are fast building up. Ten or twelve years ago everything seemed to be going forward in Oregon with great vigor and rapidity. This growth, as the people afterward discovered, was forced, and therefore premature and unsubstantial, but now it is very evident that all our gains are real and permanent, and it may be predicted with confidence that there will hereafter be no relapse of progress such as was witnessed a few years ago.

Portland, Salem, Albany and some of the other towns, are building up more rapidly this summer than ever before. Accustomed as we have been to small things, the present rate of their growth is actually surprising. Industry among us appears to have received a new and powerful impetus. The hitherto dormant energies of the country are springing into unwonted activity. For years back the State has been struggling against all the disadvantages incident to its newness, its want of population and its remoteness of position in reference to the wealthier parts of our country, but all these difficulties are gradually giving way, and it is easy to see that henceforward, Oregon will be very different from what she has been in the past. We are not now so far from the other States as we once were, for the reason that the rich Territory lying between us and them, a while ago inhabited only by savages, but now populated by thousands of civilized people, give us a continuous line of settlements through to the other side, make traveling safer and more expeditious than formerly and afford resting places for the emigrant, so that the journey from the East does not now seem half so long as it once did. These Territories besides are pouring their mineral wealth into the lap of Oregon, furnishing us a market, and affording us a medium of exchange and capital to carry on trade. Our prosperity is largely due to them. As they increase in wealth, so shall we, both by the aid they furnish us and by the natural growth of our own State.

THE PROBABILITY OF SECURING THE BLACK FOOT TRADE.—We are pleased to know that some of our business men are alive to the interest of securing to themselves, and this section, the trade of the Black Foot mines. Some few have already forwarded stocks of goods in that direction, and when it is known by the miners and people there that they can secure what they want from this side better than from St Louis, or elsewhere along the Missouri, it will not be very long before a trade, that will be unrivalled, can be permanently established, and secured for this section. Heretofore the mines of Montana have procured almost all their supplies from the Missouri, but now, it is a fact well authenticated that the trade of that river is not, and cannot be, able to accommodate all the persons there. The past season twenty [illegible] left St Louis for Fort Benton—of these, but six reached their destination—two were lost entirely by casualties, and twelve were compelled to discharge their cargoes at Fort Union, and at the mouth of Milk River, from which place shippers were compelled to pay from fourteen to twenty cents per pound to have their goods landed at Fort Benton, 2,415 miles from St Louis. The Black Foot mines, which are now thought to be the richest in the country, are but sixty-seven miles of land travel farther from the head of navigation on the Columbia river than they are from Fort Benton. Now let us see the advantages of reaching them from here. Goods can be shipped to Wallula, and are being shipped there, for the Black Foot at this time. We see it stated that between four hundred and five hundred pack animals left during the past three weeks for that region. A gentleman who has traveled the entire route, and who is a careful observer of things, has given us the following table of distances to Black Foot City, in the heart of the mines:

	Miles
From a landing on Snake river, 14 miles above Palouse Ferry, (called Buack's Ferry) to the bridge on Spokane, a good wagon road	70
From this bridge to Pend'Oreille Lake, a good wagon road, also	42
From Pen d'Oreille Lake to Horse Plains, most of the distance navigable,	125
From Horse Plains to Indian Agency on the Jacko Fork of the Bitter Root, easy land travel,	25
From the Agency to Hell Gate, land,	40
From Hell Gate to Black Foot City, by land	90
Total	392
Of actual land travel	267

From Fort Benton, in case steamers could get there regularly and at all seasons, the travel by land would be something over 300 miles. On page 240 of the Stevens's Explorations for a Railroad route from St Paul to Puget Sound, we find a description of the Pen d'Oreille Lake and the river to Horse Plains a distance of about one hundred and twenty-five miles, which, it is stated the Hudson's Bay Company were in the habit of ascending with their large freight boats, from the lower end of the Lake. It is asserted here in this report that steamboats could well ascend to a point nine miles above the lake or eighty miles in all from below and at high water they could ascend much further. To build a wagon road from Hell Gate to Pen d'Oreille lake, in 1853 Lieut Donelson estimated that ten men in seventy eight days' work of ten hours, would complete it. By transporting goods to the point at which the Hudson's Bay Company formerly landed their freight boats, Horse Plains, there would be actually but twenty-five miles of wagon road to construct through a prairie country, to connect boat navigation with the Indian Agency, from which point there is now an excellent wagon road via Hell Gate to Black Foot City. On page 110 of the same report, Lieut Saxton, speaking of the country along the Black Foot Fork, after passing Hell Gate says: "I think it decidedly a misnomer to call this beautiful region by so unholy a name. The sun does not shine on a better spot on earth, and I found that my previous ideas of the Rocky Mountain range were as far as this section is concerned entirely erroneous. Instead of a vast pile of rocks and mountains, at most impassable, I found a fine country well watered by streams of clear cold water and interspersed with meadows, covered with the finest luxuriant grass. Nature, the report says, seems to have intended the route for a great highway across the continent, and it appeared to offer but little obstruction to the construction of a railroad. Parties are now energetically at work to place a steamer on the above lake, adapted to the trade. We have no doubt but that it will be completed the coming winter. The machinery has all been arranged for, and will be sent forward from this city within ten days. This is a magnificent undertaking, and one destined to be of great advantage to this country, and especially this community—it will be another milestone in the direction of uniting the eastern and western slopes of the Rocky Mountains, and being a private enterprise is a really greater than the immense work of the Central Pacific Railroad. The trade which will be secured to us by the success of the project will be of far greater value than any we at present enjoy.

HANDSOME.—The Emperor of Austria has acquired another claim on the gratitude of his Hungarian subjects by bestowing upon the widow of the late Ladislaus de Szalay a pension of 1,000 florins, and on her children 200 florins a year each, in consideration of the services rendered by her husband to the literature and science of Hungary. The Emperor has also done a gracious act toward his Venetian subjects, having granted a full amnesty to 154 persons convicted of complicity in the Friuli insurrection.

COSTLY SWINDLING.—Those who think they can swindle the Government with impunity and queerly deem it no crime to do so are sometimes taught a salutary lesson. John S Wallace, a merchant of Chicago, was arrested recently for using revenue stamps two or three times over on his warehouse receipts. His manner of doing it was to put a stamp on a receipt, and after it had been passed, tear it off and use it again on another receipt. Numbers of receipts were found in his desk with the stamps off, and the stamps in an envelope. In this way he confesses to having saved about $85, which will probably cost him about $35,000, the penalty for each offense being $1,000, with the addition of imprisonment. Wallace offered $5,000 to the officer who arrested him if he would let him off.

LOUISVILLE, Sept 1.—The Chattanooga Gazette says a bloody difficulty occurred between W. S. Hall, clerk of the Circuit Court at Knoxville and a young man named Baker, late of the rebel army, which resulted in the death of Hall. Baker was admitted to bail, but the citizens got him from the sheriff and hung him in the streets of Chattanooga.

Privileges granted to Davis

NEW YORK, Sept 6.—The Herald's Fortress Monroe correspondent states that Jeff. Davis who has hitherto been denied permission to communicate with his family, is now allowed to write to his wife. With this concession and the privilege of reading some of the daily papers, he says he has nothing left to complain of except the loss of liberty and the delay in bringing him to trial. All of his letters are supervised by General Miles before being sent away.

Miscellaneous.

NEW YORK, Sept 4th.—The Herald's Richmond correspondent says that Bishop Lay, of North Carolina, who was arrested some time since on the supposition of having evidence of value to the Government, has been discharged. He passed through Richmond on his way home.

Extra Billy Smith is passing his time quietly on his confiscated estate near Washington.

The Herald's Beaufort correspondent, dated Sept 2d, says: The Haytien dispatch steamer Geffrard put into this port for coal and water yesterday. The Captain is bearer of dispatches to Washington, asking the President for aid to quell the rebellion in Hayti.

The Herald's special dispatch says General Swayne of the Department of Alabama having recently issued a general order inviting the judicial officers and magistrates of that State to become agents of the Freedmen's Bureau for the administration of justice in all difficulties arising between negroes and between whites, and admonished such officials that failure to accept the agency for the purpose designated would be followed by the substitution of martial law in the districts where such failures occurred. Provisional Governor Parsons earnestly advises all judicial officers and magistrates to accept the appointment offered as above, and in good faith to do justice and observe the instructions contained in the order of General Swayne.

The Times' special says there is the best authority for saying that Alexander H Stevens and J. H. Reagan, now confined in Fort Warren, are writing to friends in the South, express the most liberal views respecting reconstruction, the negro race and the future of the South. They urge that the present system of the South must be revolutionized, that the negro being a large permanent element in the population of the South, must be so treated as to increase his self respect and manhood, that his freedom must be cheerfully accorded, and he must be educated for the intelligent wielding of that political power which the progress of events promises to put him in possession of.

The brig Nellie has arrived at Norfolk from Turk's Island, with a cargo of salt. This is the first arrival of the kind since the war. Henry A. Wise passed here to day for the eastern shore of Virginia.

NEW YORK, Sept 5th.—The Vesta, from Liverpool the 26th, has arrived.

The Telegraph Construction Company are so confident of success with the Atlantic cable that they offered to contract with the Atlantic Telegraphic Company to recover and complete the present cable and lay a second during next year.

Le Norde explains the position of the French system of telegraphing via the Canary and Cape De Verde Islands and the Southern route. It says there is encouragement from the failure of the Great Eastern, and the line had to be completed from Paris to the Canary Islands in two years, and the whole line within five years.

The London Times has an editorial on the situation of America towards England. It denies that there exists any pretext for war. It seriously asks for a dispassionate consideration of affairs by the Americans.

The Emancipation Society has issued an address announcing its dissolution owing to urgent demands from Ireland, on account of the cattle disease. The importation of cattle from Great Britain into Ireland, is prohibited.

A mutiny broke out on the ship St Mark, in the Mersey, bound to New York, but it was soon quelled. The second mate and some of the crew received severe injuries.

The British squadron has returned from Brest.

The Emperor and Empress had returned to Fontainbleau from Switzerland.

A Paris paper alluding to the Austrian-Prussian proceeding with the Duchies point out that France may appropriate a point on the Rhine when it suit her, with just as much right as Prussia appropriates Luenberg. The Austro Prussian diplomates are to continue negotiations as to the question of the succession of the Duchies.

SHANGHAI, July 12.—Burgwine was still in custody. The American Minister had again demanded his release intimating that a refusal would be a casus belli.

It is rumored that the insurgents had captured Pekin.

The California Election.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 7.—The returns are not in, but enough is known to indicate that Tubbs, with six Independent Union assemblymen, and Shaw, with six Democratic assemblymen, are elected. Cohen, regular Union, is not elected. Santa Cruz, Monterey, Contra Costa, Alameda and Santa Clara, have all gone regular Union. None others heard from yet.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 7.—A S Tubbs, Independent Union, and W J Shaw, Democrat to the assembly, Charles Clayton, James Bowman, Charles L Wiggins, S. C. Bugbee, Henry Dutton and David Dwyer, Independent Union, and J A McClelland, Marcus A Brady, Michael Hawkins, George Hearst, S S Lupton and E J Chase, Democrats, are elected. The total vote in the city was 13,128. The soldier's vote is yet to be heard from which will probably increase the Union majority but will not otherwise effect the same. The fusion vote ranked from 7,020 for Clayton down to 6,794 for Bugbee. The Regular Union from 4,011 for Cohen down to 3,341 for Marden. The Straight Independent from 3,553 for Wood down to 1,281 for Cox. The Democrat is from 6,471 for Shaw down to 5,231 for Chase. The vote for Senators stood as follows: Tubbs (Union,) 6,797; Vandyke, (Independent) 3,143; Shaw, (Democrat) 6,471; Cutter, (Democrat) 6,211; Pixley (Union) 3,710, unexpired term, Edward Moran, 16,166.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept 7th.—William T Coleman & Co have finally disposed of their interest in the Pacific and San Francisco Sugar Refinery, comprising one half of the establishment to W. Luning, Dornille, W C Ralston and R. Faerstein, at a reserved price.

The steamer [illegible], whose sale to parties in this city we noted yesterday, has been running on the China coast during the last two or three years, and is now supposed to be on her way here from Hongkong.

Flour is firm in price. There is a better feeling in the market, and though we are not warranted in putting any advance, yet the outside figures are held with greater firmness. The demand is brisk, the sales including 2,000 quarter sacks superior Golden Gate for export [illegible] 200 bbls of superfine in half sacks sold at $4 00@$5 [illegible] do extra [illegible]. Wheat is firm but rather quiet; sales 800 sacks of No 1 at $1 70 and [illegible] choice at $1 7[illegible].

The jobbers are doing a good business, particularly with Oregon and British Columbia.

The Portland steamer sailing tomorrow completely filled up yesterday, and owing to the fact that there are no sailing packets on the books for that place, shippers are in rather an unusual dilemma for the moment. Boise and Owyhee

FROM OUR TRAVELING CORRESPONDENT

R[illegible] BAR, August 27 1865.

During the ten days thus far spent in what is familiarly known as the South Boise mines I have certainly seen some of the roughest country imaginable, and been surprised at [illegible] springing up in deep canyons where scarce room enough is permitted [illegible] street [illegible]. Things are measurably at a stand still here owing to the fact that mills are being built, and in anticipation of their more thorough and successful operation almost all the arastras have ceased to run. Up Bear Gulch I [illegible] and the best developed ledge in the District. The Idaho and Confederate Star are evidently the same ledge, and it has been far more developed than the rest. The Idaho Company own the first, and the second has just passed into the possession of Wilson Waddingham lately from New York where he went last fall transporting thither 14,000 pounds of rock from this camp, which seems to have worked with good effect as he comes back here sustained by New York capital to a large amount and will soon have a 10 stamp mill thundering away in Bear Gulch.

On the Idaho and Confederate Star claims Tunnels have been run in at various heights for several hundred feet in length. The Idaho mill is making money and its operation gives a tone and reputation to the ledge.

On Steele Gulch above town is a mill just finished by Bledsoe & Co, and employed in crushing rock from the Alturas ledge which is developed to some extent and has quite a reputation here. There is some complaint as to the size of the ledges, as they are seldom over three feet wide and are often under that. Still there are undoubtedly, rich and paying ledges here only needing more development to give more importance to the district and wealth to reward enterprise. The Idaho has size enough at present to please the most fastidious, besides which, it has richness indisputable.

The Ada Elmore is a valuable ledge, but being located in the gulch, it cannot be easily opened and worked. There are a great number of ledges here, and their name is legion. Like all other districts, South Boise needs capital and well directed enterprise, though from present appearances, both are being established in its service.

Red Warrior District is quite near only being over the ridge about a mile, where two very large mills are being erected, or are just finishing, for within a few days each has raised steam and set its stamps in motion. There are a great number of ledges about Red Warrior Gulch, none of which have the development of the Idaho. Considerable work is being done, and the progress made tells very favorably as the ledges increase in width and richness. I am not inclined to particularize concerning ledges. So doing would surely displease some if it pleased a few, and very likely lay the writer liable to a charge of favoritism. I am always glad to find some ledge like the Idaho and Confederate Star, that has been sufficiently developed to stand as a representative of the district, and can be safely alluded to and described, because its reputation is established. There is nothing objectionable about the Confederate Star—save its name—but the ledge is not like to "play out," if its name-sake has done so, and its real name is "Idaho." These ledges, or the quartz region they represent, seems to be continued to the eastward. I have visited several valuable silver leads that strike me most favorably, located two miles east of here. Then again ledges are found towards Elk Creek, five miles east crop out on Gold Hill at a terrific height, up which man and horse can scarce climb, and they are discovered still eastward, sixteen to twenty miles from here, in what is commonly known as Yuba District. Sometimes this belt of ore is productive alone of gold, and sometimes is rich in silver as well, though for the matter of that there are indications of silver everywhere in these ledges, even if not pervading the quartz. In this vicinity the ledges are said to be solely productive of gold, but I see frequent traces of silver in the ore.

Soon after my arrival I made quite a stay with Major Speer. Speer of the Pittsburg Company on Elk Creek, where the company contemplate erecting mills. Elk Creek is five miles east of here, and offers many advantages for working mills, should the ledges in that vicinity prove of the anticipated value.

Major Speer has laid me under many obligations for kindnesses conferred, and I am happy to owe them to an old veteran of the war. One who does not wear a tinsel title, worn on parade, but grew to the rank of Major in the Pennsylvania reserves amid the roar of battle, through the Peninsula campaign, at Fredericksburg, Gettysburg, South Mountain and Antietam, having visited Libby and gone "on to Richmond" from a battle-field where he was left for dead.

I find many things of interest about South Boise, and ten days have passed since I came here almost unheeded, while visiting the different mining camps as the opportunities have offered.

A LOOK AT YUBA

I met with H. L. Preston, Esq., the other day, on his way to Yuba, or more technically speaking to Middle Boise, where he has a brother engaged in quartz prospecting and mining. Procuring of the Major a magnificent mule of elephantic proportions, and capable of illustrating to the life the most prominent traits of the race, I was soon mounted and on the way in company with a gentleman just from the East, whose visit was connected in some way with the quartz fever now prevalent. Before the trip was over, I found that our companion was an old hand at mining and used to quartz for many years in California, as well a gentleman of some means and of more influence. There was quite a foreign air and look about him, and a slight foreign fetter on his tongue, which with his spectacles on nose, with venerable gray locks and grizzled head made him an object of interest, especially as he jogged along as unconcernedly as any body and showed quite an acquaintance with mountain life. So we three journeyed to Yuba city, which is about 15 miles distant, has at least one family resident, with room for several more, at the foot of Atlanta Hill, where by some miracle of nature a narrow bench, sufficient for a dozen town lots is found, and of course, claimed. Yuba city is reached by a trail, and I may be mistaken, but I have an impression that the last five miles was made with a downward tendency of the market, ranging not far from an incline of thirty degrees, at least I incline to that opinion without an inclination to repeat the journey very soon.

CLIMBING THE ATLANTA HILL

But when we reached Yuba City, our troubles had commenced. Not more than a mile and a half remained to be traversed, but that mile and a half was decidedly "some." From the steep mountain ridge, five miles distant, we had looked down upon the Atlanta Hill most unconcernedly but from its base we looked up, up, up. Every few rods our beasts had to stop and puff as we stuck and hung to them, while they made frantic efforts to climb the most feasible mountain spur. Once on the top we soon found the Preston mansion, a new log house, built at the head of a ravine facing the north, in which spring water was to be found. I assure you we all took a "long cold drink." Mining operations are going on in the gulches on the Atlanta Hill, which is a tremendous mountain isolated in the midst of a circling range much more elevated, but which were less abrupt of ascent in the parts we traversed. Considerable gold is taken out here and in the Middle Boise river, not two miles distant, and the gold seems in great part to have originated upon the Atlanta Hill. There are many wide and apparently rich quartz lodes upon this and the neighboring hills, showing richly in both gold and silver. The whole district impressed all of those at the time I was, as equal to any known in this Territory. I found Dr. Hawthorne there, he having come over direct from Idaho City, also Wm. Purvine and Chas. F. Fox well Oregonians, who have allied their fortunes to Atlanta Hill and have claims upon its quartz. D. W. Douthit and J. A. Abbot formerly of Portland were with Dr. H., and so we had quite an Oregon party. Preston himself having intermittent spells of being an Oregonian.

There is at present quite an interest felt here and elsewhere in the development of the Atlanta ledge which is undoubtedly the king ledge of this mountain if not of Idaho at large. The Atlanta ledge is very wide in appearance at least twenty feet in width. I have no inclination to go into quartz rapture over a reef of rocks that happens to crop out on a hill but when I saw such an immense ledge as the Atlanta partly as rich as the Morning Star in silver and partly rivaling the Oro Fino in gold like the balance [illegible] I had a [illegible] quartz on the [illegible] that is no subsided. Although the ledge is [illegible] traced for a mile and a half I could not trace any of it to my own share and none of those who owned said anything of a divide, except where referring to the high divide of the mountains where the rich ore cropped out.

After visiting all the mining camps of any note in Idaho, I am forced to believe by the light of what little experience years of interest in quartz mining has given me, that the Yuba district when more fully developed will command attention equal to any other. Water power is abundant. Wood for all purposes grows near, and for general facilities the district is not surpassed. Many ledges are found and opened, showing rich ores. The Atlanta is opened in many places with very uniform success and promises to continue wide and rich. About one hundred people are working the placers near there, and rich diggings have been found under this ledge. Alturas City is in the Middle Boise where is a trading post and butcher shop to supply the hands working the [illegible] product that Alturas will in time grow [illegible] the quartz mines are brought into [illegible]

—OF—

WILD CHERRY!

HAS BEEN USED FOR NEARLY

HALF A CENTURY,

WITH THE MOST ASTONISHING SUCCESS IN CURING

Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Sore Throat, Influenza, Whooping Cough, Croup, Liver Complaint, Bronchitis, Difficulty of Breathing, Asthma, and every Affection of the THROAT, LUNGS, AND CHEST,

INCLUDING EVEN

CONSUMPTION.

There is scarcely one individual in the community who wholly escapes, during a season, from some one, however slightly developed, of the above symptoms—a neglect of which might lead to the last named, and most to be dreaded disease in the whole catalogue. The power of "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree over this class of complaints is well known; so great is the good it has performed, and so great the popularity it has acquired.

In this preparation, besides the virtues of the Cherry, there are commingled with it other ingredients of like value, thus increasing its value ten fold, and forming a Remedy whose power to soothe, to heal, to relieve, and to cure disease, exists in no other medicine yet discovered.

The unequalled success that has attended the application of this medicine in all cases of

has induced many physicians of high standing to employ it in their practice, some of whom advise us of the fact under their own signatures. We have space only for the names of a few of these:—

Let's Sit Down and Talk Together

From a work entitled Markham's [illegible] Heart we copy the annexed stanzas. The sentiment uttered by the poet can be readily appreciated by all who like some of us know what it is to grow old:

Let's sit down and talk together
Of the things of olden day,
When we like lambkins loosed from tether,
Gaily tripped along the way.
Time has marked us both with lightness,
Leaving [illegible]
And tinging with peculiar lightness
Silver threads among our hair.

Let's sit down and talk together
Many years away have passed,
And fair and foul has been the weather
Since we saw each other last.
Many whom we loved are living
In a better world than this,
And some amongst us still are giving
Thought and thought for present bliss.

Let's sit down and talk together
Though the flowers of youth are dead,
The [illegible] still is waving among the heather,
And for us their fragrance shed.
Life has a thousand blessings in it
Even for the aged man,
And God has hid in every minute
Something we may wisely scan.

Let's sit down and talk together
Boys we were—we now are men,
We meet awhile but know not whether
We shall meet to talk again.
Parting time has come too fleetly
Speed the moments when their wings
Are flown like breathings lessening sweetly
From [illegible] things that never sting.

Our Foreign Trade and Customs Duties

During the fiscal year which ended on 30th ult. it appears, from the official Custom house returns which we publish in our Money columns this morning, that the New York market took for actual home consumption foreign merchandise to the value of one hundred and thirty-five millions. The gross importations were twenty five millions in excess of this sum, but owing to the high ruling of gold throughout the first and second, and part of the third quarters of the year, our consumers prudently declined to agord so large a market. The consequence was that eighteen millions were re-exported to other than American markets, and the remainder held over in bond.

From this home consumption of foreign goods the government derived, at the port of New York, about sixty one and a half millions in customs revenue in gold for the support of the public debt. The average rate of duties on the goods consumed was about forty five per cent. The year before the government collected seventy-seven and a half millions of revenue at the New York Custom house, but on a very much larger relative consumption of goods, say two hundred and five millions at an average under the preceding tariff of 1862 of about thirty-seven and a-half per cent. The economical difference to the country, at the port of New York alone, is seventy millions saved in the consumption of foreign goods, at a difference to the government of only sixteen millions in revenue.

Applying the figures at New York to the outports, and considering all together, we are enabled to arrive at the general results for the fiscal year; that (1) the country, from 1st of July, 1864, to 30th of June, 1865, consumed of foreign merchandise imported under the existing tariff, about $190,000,000 in value, from which the government derived about $86,000,000 gold customs, to pay $38,000,000 gold and $15,000,000 currency interest on the public debt, and (2) the consumption of foreign goods the previous fiscal year from 1st of July, 1863, to 30th of June, 1864, imported, under the lower tariff of 1862—lower by 7½ per cent on the average duties—of the value of $275,000,000, from which the goverment derived over $102,000,000 in gold customs.

In the one case, we shall have exported in gold to meet the resulting balances between our regular trade exports and imports, eighty one millions in the other, one hundred and five millions of dollars. The saving, in the late years, in the consumption of foreign goods it will be noticed, is even greater than the difference in the draft made upon our specie resources.

Now for the new fiscal year upon which we have recently entered. The price of Gold has returned from 260 in July, 1864, to 140 in July, 1865. The leading motive of economy in the consumption of Foreign Goods, is correspondingly changed. The wants of the States recently in insurrection have been added to the demand. The ability of the whole country to consume foreign merchandise, we may fairly assume, is largely in excess of the year before last. The higher duties may, perhaps, restrain this consumption. It is rather desirable they should do so. But we have reason to believe that the consumption of the new year will reach three hundred millions of dollars, which at an average rate of duty of forty four per cent, will give the government $132,000,000 in gold or an average of eleven millions per month, wherewith to pay the interest on the Public Debt. One of our opposition morning cotemporaries deems this a "sanguine" calculation. So he did the estimate of the Secretary of the Treasury the year past, for gold customs to pay the accruing gold interest on the Public Debt. Even as late as January last, if our memory serves us, his tables of customs revenue implied great doubt of getting through the fiscal year without buying gold to pay the interest on the Public Debt. This interest was only $58,000,000. The Secretary's estimate was for $72,000,000 of gold customs. Our own estimates was not less than $78,000,000, and from that on to $82,000,000, as the business of the year advanced. The actual result is nearly or quite $86,000,000.

The very best feature in our foreign trade figures for the fiscal year just closed, and the estimate for the year upon which we have just entered, is that the government derives the largest sum of customs revenue from the most reasonable and economical consumption of Foreign Goods. This result is not "Free Trade," of course, nor is it necessarily "Protection." Incidentally it may be the latter. But the Government, in the adjustment of the Tariff, such as that of 1864 pending an exhausting war, or even succeeding the termination of such a war, is bound to keep steadily in view the main point of raising the largest sum of revenue, from the least oppressive volume of importations, as measured by the present ability of the country to consume, and the probable [illegible] and upon it from abroad for our domestic products, to balance such consumption.—N. Y. Times.

THE PRESIDENT AND HIS VISITORS.—The Washington correspondent of the Cincinnati Gazette, under date of July 17th, has the following:

For some days past the entrance to the Executive Chamber has been guarded by a series of pickets stationed at the bottom and top of the staircase leading thereto, much to the annoyance of the Ministers and Representatives, who were obliged to cool themselves in the East Room, in company with rebel men and women, office seekers and other beggars. Besides this, a barricade was erected across the hall leading to the business office. This morning the President ordered the obstructions to be removed, and instructed the usher to admit all persons having business to the upper Hall. A distinguished Senator from Ohio noted for his plain talk, is said to have been one of the first and fiercest in denouncing this infringement upon democratic rights, and the President being informed of the matter, changed the custom entirely. Hon Preston King is living at the White House. He has entire charge of the President's room, and is often seen in negligee costume, advising or instructing parties, probably to lighten the labors of the Executive. Mrs President Johnson is severely though not dangerously ill.

PORTRAIT OF THE LATE PRESIDENT.—It is proposed to have an exhibition at the National Capitol next Winter, of the many portraits of the late President Lincoln, to select the best one by a popular verdict. Thus far that of Wilson of Washington city is regarded as the best, next comes a portrait painted by Joseph Ames of Boston for Faneuil Hall, and next a portrait by Vaulse a French artist. The portraits of Healy and of Leutze are regarded as failures and Carpenter's imaginary composition purporting to represent the signing of the Emancipation Proclamation was properly estimated in the Senate last Winter when three Senators only voted to purchase it. The best photograph of Lincoln represents him and Tad, with a photographic album in his lap which the wood engravers have picture converted into a family Bible. Clark Mills has a good bust of the martyr President and he will obtain an order from Congress at its next session to execute a statue of him.

CRIME IN BOSTON.—The Traveler of the 5th instant says: During the week ending this noon five working days, no court being held on the Fourth, five hundred and sixty warrants have been issued by Judge Wright of the Police Court which equals 29,000 for a year. Of the number one hundred and sixty four were made on the day after the Fourth, thirty eight more than any previous day since the establishment of the Court. Probably two thirds of the above warrants were for drunkenness. The Suffolk county jail is crowded to overflowing and Sheriff Clark finds it very difficult to accommodate persons that have been sent to him. The jail has two hundred and twenty cells and between three and four hundred persons are now in that institution for safe keeping, so that in many cells two persons have been locked up together.

There are 45 000 laundresses and washerwomen in Paris on a strike.

THE FIRST NUGGET OF CALIFORNIA GOLD.—A curious story is told by the Paris correspondent of the London Star, who claims to have discovered the first specimen of gold from California in a private collection of curiosities, as follows:

M. le Carpentier then told me that during the revolution of 1830, he had felt a mortal fear lest the value of his collection should attract the cupidity of the lawless mob which roamed about the streets for many days. One night at a very late hour, he heard loud and sudden knocking. With infinite precaution he opened the street door. An old man evidently much agitated entered and showing the case of splendid ivory carving I had remarked, told him they had belonged to the great Emperor, and asked him to purchase them at once. On M. Le Carpentier requesting him to leave the box till the next day, he said "I am a [illegible]; I have lost everything. I want money to-night but I shall return and buy them back as affairs settle." The generous "collectionneur" at once gave him the sum he asked and has never heard of him since. Another touching anecdote is attached to a nugget of gold, the first ever brought from California to Europe. Twenty eight years ago a poor invalid presented himself and taking out of his tattered coat an ounce of [illegible] quartz, asked M. le Carpentier if he would purchase it, assuring him it was full of gold. The first thought that struck the antiquarian was that the man was insane. "I am not mad," he said. "I have come to ask you to apply to Government to give me a vessel and crew of a hundred men and promise to return with a cargo of gold!" M. le Carpentier, confirmed in his original impression, [illegible] the poor man's [illegible] and in exchange for a small piece of quartz he gave him a Napoleon telling him he might return when he pleased. The poor man never reappeared. Meanwhile M. le Carpentier had the fragment analyzed and to his amazement, it proved to contain pure gold. Fifteen years elapsed [illegible] were left at his door, the parcel, wrapped in an old handkerchief, was heavy [illegible] it proved to be the dying statement of the poor traveler, which, through the neglect of the lodging house keeper, at whose house he had died a few days after his interview with M. le Carpentier, had never been delivered. The packet I need not say contained the block of quartz. The letter was thus worded: "You alone listened to me, you alone stretched out a helping hand to me. Alas! it was too late! I am dying. I bequeath my secret to you. The country whence I brought this gold is called California!" To describe the effect of receiving this by a mere act of neglect, fifteen years too late is impossible. The magic of that name was utterly unknown at the time of the incident and the poor sailor who brought the first specimen of California gold actually died of want.

THE NEXT SPEAKER.—On this subject the Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Independent has the following:

I suppose I do not state a piece of news when I say that Colfax will be re-elected Speaker, certainly it is not to any member of Congress. It is admitted on all hands, and there is no rival candidate for the place. Now it is well known that Colfax is excessively particular on the subject of the oath. In the last Congress he required every member, before being sworn in as a member to take the strongest oath of loyalty. He will again, next winter, demand that every member shall take this oath, and even if the Clerk was faithless the conspiracy would fail, as the Republicans will have the power to elect their Speaker, even if all the Southern members were placed upon the roll and participated in the election. Under any conceivable circumstances, the organization of the next House in a just manner is secure. What we have to fear is, that a reconstruction policy, not founded upon justice to the colored man, will be deliberately adopted by a Republican Congress. This can only be prevented by proving to Representatives that their constituents desire the ballot to be given to the black man.

EMIGRATION.—An article in a Swedish paper contains a great deal of interesting matter concerning emigration from the continent in this century. From Germany, between 1840 and 1860, there departed for other lands 1,546,000, nearly all of whom went to America. Switzerland, between 1851 and 1852, lost 24,000 of her citizens, who went to trans-atlantic countries, in the forty years ending 1860, not less than 208,000 Frenchmen emigrated to countries on the other side of the Atlantic, besides 120,000 who emigrated to Algeira and Senegal. The North American States absorbed 17,000 emigrants from Italy and Spain. In the short period of three years not less than 25,000 Portuguese took up residence in Brazil, whereas not more than 2,000 at the outside emigrated to America in the forty years, including 1860. Of Belgians 80,000 went to the United States between 1851 and 1860. From 1851 to 1856 there left Holland 30,000. How many have quitted Sweden and Denmark there are no means of ascertaining, but in the former country 15,000 persons were supplied with passports between 1851 and 1860, while from Denmark from 1820 to 1860, the number of emigrants did not exceed 5,000, the greater part of whom went to the Mormons.

MORE ABOUT "BLACKFOOT."—Mr H. Bledsoe, of Wells, Fargo & Co's Express received a letter from a friend in the mines within the past week. The mines are spoken of as good and encouraging. The writer estimates the distance from this place to the diggings, as traveled by pack trains, to be about four hundred and seventy-five miles, via the Mullen Road. The mines are found some eight miles north of the road, eighty miles from Hell Gate and one hundred and twenty miles from Virginia City, (on the Jefferson Fork of the Upper Missouri,) in a north western direction. It is also stated that the Prickly Pear (eastern) mines are thirty miles from those on the Blackfoot. A line of stages is making daily trips between the two camps.

A letter was received last Friday, the 24th ult. by James Ireland who resides on Walla Walla river, from Mr C. C. Harkens dated in the mines July 27th. The substance of the information gleaned therefrom is that the mines are good; a number of claims paying big, but as to himself and party they had not struck anything. Provisions were scarce. In this letter the distance from here is put down at four hundred and sixty two miles, and from Fort Benton, one hundred and fifty six miles.—Walla Walla Statesman, Sept 1st.

BEE FUNERAL.—A correspondent of an English paper transmits the following:

On Sunday morning last I had the pleasure of witnessing the most interesting ceremony, which I desire to record for the benefit of our readers; and if Dr Cumming, the Times bee master, happens to be one of them, I would particularly commend it to his notice. Whilst walking with a friend in a garden near Falkirk we observed two bees issuing from one of the hives, bearing between them the body of a defunct comrade, with which they flew for a distance of ten yards. We followed them closely, and noted the care with which they selected a convenient hole at the side of the gravel walk—the tenderness with which they committed the body, head downwards, to the earth—and the solicitude with which they afterwards pushed against it two little stones, doubtless "in memoriam." Their task being ended, they paused for about a minute, perhaps to drop over the grave of their friend a sympathizing tear; when they flew away and, as John Bunyan says in his dream, "I saw them no more."

OUR MISTAKES ABOUT EACH OTHER.—Not one man in ten thousand sees those with whom he associates as they really are. If the prayer of Burns were granted, and we could all see ourselves as others see us, our self estimates would probably be much more erroneous than they now are. The truth is that we regard each other through a variety of lenses no one of which is correct. Passion and prejudice, love and hate, benevolence and envy spectacle our eyes, and utterly prevent us from observing accurately. Many whom we deem the porcelain of human clay are mere dirt, and a still greater number of those we put down in our black books are no further off from Heaven, and perchance a little nearer than the censors who condemn them.

[illegible].—It is related that in the town of Richmond, Indiana, a wealthy Quaker, whose four beautiful horses were the admiration of the place, was asked to aid pecuniarily in the formation of a cavalry regiment. He replied "Friend, thou knowest that I cannot give thee money, for thou teachest war, war is wicked. But as for four horses, it is true that two will serve my need, and friend I will say this to thee, that my stable door is not locked, and if I see thee on one of my horses and thy friend James on another I will keep the peace towards you both."

UNFORTUNATE.—The New York Day Book is attempting to create a sort of sympathy for Jeff Davis by comparing him to Marshal Ney and Lafayette. It is but justice to the two last mentioned that they never conspired war against France but fought for her first, last and all the time. It should likewise be borne in mind that they never robbed a bank nor ran away in female apparel.

INDIANA STATE TREASURY.—The condition of the Indiana State Treasury on the first of July was as follows: Balance in the treasury June 1st $785,369 22; receipts from various sources $174,842 30; total $960,211 52; disbursements $147,792 20; balance in the treasury July 1st, $812,419 32.

PERSONAL.—John C. Breckinridge is at Havana, Cuba. A correspondent of the Cincinnati Times saw him stop at a second class boarding house in the city, a place where [illegible] and people [illegible] like [illegible] most do congregate. The [illegible] a years gone [illegible] changed. His form and face [illegible] has been considerably reduced and he is quite [illegible]. Instead of [illegible], being lively and animated [illegible], he is moody and taciturn, speaking only to his intimate friends. He is evidently brooding over bitter cud of reflection and repentance for the wounds inflicted upon his country, and though he expresses no opinion publicly, [illegible] well [illegible] what melancholy must be his thoughts, which he never [illegible]. What now he is and what he might have been. I hear it rumored that it is his intention to leave Havana shortly for Spain. Such is the reward of treason, folly and [illegible], of ingratitude and infamous.

J. P. Benjamin of the rebel cabinet, who disappeared so mysteriously during Jeff Davis' flight, has arrived in Paris. He is said to have provided abundant means for himself in view of such an exigency as now exists.

Paul Morphy, the celebrated chess player, is in New York, having arrived there from New Orleans. He was a secessionist as long as the war lasted, but is now disposed to accept things as they are and let by-gones be by-gones. He is now a frequenter of the New York Chess Club Rooms and is winner in nearly every game, even with great odds against him.

John G. Mason, one of the rebel commissioners to Europe, has gone to St. Catharines, Canada, to reside. Other rebel emissaries to Europe have also come back and are settled in Canada.

Hon Pierre Soule, of Louisiana, has opened a law office in the City of Mexico. He has lived the past year on a plantation, near Puebla, but found retirement unsuited to his active and intriguing nature, and moved to the Capital, where he will be likely to take part in Maximilian's Government.

General Ewell, a prisoner of war, having taken the oath of allegiance, and given bonds for its maintenance, has been permitted by the President to return to his home in Virginia, on parole, condition that he will report once a week by letter to the Secretary of War. President Lincoln having directed, under date of March [illegible], that Mrs Ewell have the benefit of the Amnesty Proclamation, and she having taken the oath, the President has permitted her to return to her former residence in Nashville, and taken the property as decreed by the United States Court for Middle Tennessee.

Emerson Etheridge is to be tried at Nashville by court martial for uttering seditious language. He has been released on his parole not to repeat his offensive sentiments.

C. Ruffin Jr, the son of the old rebel who did himself the honor and the country the justice to shoot himself a few days ago, is an applicant for pardon from the President. Forrest, of Fort Pillow memory, wants the same thing, and so do a host of others.

COMPLEX RELATIONSHIP.—A correspondent of Harper's Monthly is involved in domestic perplexities. He writes:

I got acquainted with a young widow, who lived with her step daughter in the same house. I married the widow, my father fell, shortly after, in love with the step daughter of my wife, and married her. My wife became the mother in law and also the daughter in law of my own father, my wife's step daughter is my step mother, and I am the step father of my mother in law. My step mother, who is the step daughter of my wife, has a boy; he is naturally my step-brother, but because he is the son of my wife's step daughter, so is my wife the grandmother of the little boy, and I am the grandfather of my step brother. My wife has also a boy; my step mother is consequently the step sister of my boy, and is also his grandmother, because he is the child of her step son; and my father is the brother in law of my son, because he has got his step sister for a wife. I am the brother of my own son, who is the son of my step-mother. I am the brother in law of my mother, my wife is the aunt of her own son, my son is the grandson of my own father, and I am my own grandfather.

NATIONAL PENSIONERS.—The Washington correspondent of the Sacramento Union has the following:

"The only debt that our republic can never pay is the debt of gratitude which is due those who have fought her battles." So say the politicians, but it really don't seem as though those who have lost their limbs are being well recompensed on account. The highest rate of pensions paid is only $25 per month, and that is only received by those who have lost both eyes, or both hands. Those who have lost both feet receive $20 per month. But a large majority of the pensioners do not receive over $10 per month, and many partially maimed do not receive even that pittance.

Many officers who have served with credit during the war are receiving appointments to Federal offices, and in Philadelphia and Baltimore there has been quite a conflict of opinion between the advocates of thus rewarding heroism and the old politicians. The military element will make itself felt in the coming Fall elections, and in several States the returned officers and soldiers are already organizing political associations."

"CONSTITUTION WATER,"

THE ONLY REMEDY FOR DISEASES OF THE

BLADDER, KIDNEYS,

Gravel, Dropsical Swellings,

GENITAL DEBILITY, ETC.

THE ASTONISHING SUCCESS WHICH HAS ATtended this invaluable medicine renders it the most valuable one ever discovered. No language can convey an adequate idea of the immediate and almost miraculous change which it occasions in the debilitated and shattered system. In fact it stands unrivalled as a remedy for the permanent cure of the maladies above mentioned, such as—

DIABETES, IMPOTENCY,
LOSS OF MUSCULAR ENERGY,
PHYSICAL PROSTRATION,
INDIGESTION,
SEMINAL WEAKNESS,
GLEET, FLUOR ALBUS,

And in every disease any way connected with the disorder or illness of the Procreative Functions. Persons about to marry, if conscious of any weakness, should take the

CONSTITUTION WATER,

Whether broken down by excess, weak by nature, or impaired by sickness, the unstrung and relaxed organization is at once braced, revivified and built up. Well may this celebrated medicine be called the

MEDICAL WONDER.

The stooping, trembling victim of depression and debility becomes a new man; he stands erect, he moves with a firm step, his mind, which was previously sunk in gloom or an almost idiotic apathy, becomes bright and active; and he goes forth regenerated, conscious of new vigor. The medicine reaches the CONSTITUTION itself, and restores it to its normal condition.

IRRITATION OF THE NECK OF THE BLADDER,
INFLAMMATION OF THE KIDNEYS, AND
CATARRH OF THE BLADDER,
STRANGUARY AND BURNING, OR PAINFUL
URINATING,
CALCULUS, GRAVEL,
BRICK DUST DEPOSIT, AND MUCOUS
OR MILKY DISCHARGES AFTER URINATING.

For these diseases it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. TRY IT in those cases, and you will ever give praise to

CONSTITUTION WATER.

Are you troubled with that distressing pain in the small of the back and through your hips? CONSTITUTION WATER will relieve you like magic.

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,

Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

ITS ACTION IS EXPECTORANT, ALTERATIVE, SUDORIFIC, SEDATIVE, DIAPHORETIC AND DIURETIC, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; CHANGES THE SECRETIONS AND PURIFIES THE BLOOD; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION! IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies) or affect the head, as it contains no Opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED TO BE PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it if only taken in time.
